LEARN A UNIQUE PRACTICE!

BRING HEALTHY ENERGY AND FLOW INTO ORGANIZATIONS AND NATURE

You learn that at small and large scales, locally and internationally, during the vocational training for ECOintention Practitioners. You also learn how to coach managers and wardens to steward their organization energetically.

ECOINTENTION IS UNIQUE

There is no other method that both brings a healthy energy and flow into an organization and at the same time coaches the client. This holistic approach makes awareness-raising and transformation processes happen more quickly and last longer.

COACHING WITH RESONANT LEADERSHIP

As an ECOintention Practitioner you teach the client how their organization functions energetically, how they steward the energy and direct it with their intention. Transforming stagnation in the organization as well as old patterns in the client are key aspects of the work.

ECOINTENTION PRACTITIONER

As an ECOintention Practitioner you learn numerous skills that you can apply immediately. Even within your current work.

An ECOintention Practitioner

- Can relax inside, protect themselves energetically and ground;
- Knows the power of attention and intention;
- Brings energy and flow back into organizations, ecosystems, projects and events;
- Works with people, animals, trees and plants;
- Can affirm goals and get luck on their side;
- Can heal and read auras;
- Can contact angels and nature elementals;
- Can perceive electromog and clear spaces;
- Applies the theories of morphic fields, zero point energy and Huna;
- Can coach using the core quadrants, the Spiral of Creation and the Rose of Leary;
- Works as a coach using organizational constellations, numerology, the Golden Mean and tarot;
- Can perceive and direct energy at a distance;
- Can identify places that give and take energy.

ENHANCING ENERGY

An ECOintention Practitioner enhances the energy and flow of organizations and nature using tools to remove blockages, harmonize stress and increase life energy. Tools that we use include colors, crystals, music, Bach flower remedies, sacred geometry, symbols and mandalas.

WHAT IS ECOINTENTION?

ECOintention is a method for bringing healthy energy and flow into organizations and ecosystems. Managers and wardens are given easy steps to restore vitality to their system. By bringing the energy back and directing it with intention, productivity is increased and well-being and communication are improved in the organization and in nature.

Visible and measurable effects

The effect of ECOintention is visible and measurable with increasing vitality and health in ecosystems often combined with greater biodiversity. For organizations it results in greater productivity, more free time, happy staff and better financial results. Awareness-raising and transformation processes happen more quickly and last longer.

Anyone can learn it

Anyone can perceive, interpret and enhance life energy. No previous experience is needed. To complete the third year, three blocks of intuitive development are prerequisite. Each year you decide if you want to continue. You are allowed to take one one-year break in between. As of 2016 there are more than 120 ECOintention Practitioners. Many of them are self-employed or work with the Center for ECOintention.

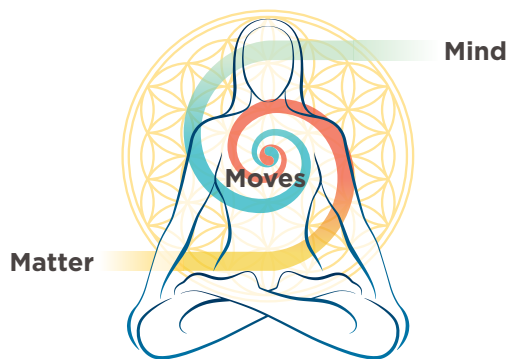

Nationally accredited

The ECOintention Practitioner vocational training is recognised by the Dutch government and listed in the Central Register for Short Vocational Training (CRKBO) and is VAT exempt.

Mind Moves Matter

ECOintention combines modern scientific knowledge with ancient wisdom to create a practically applicable method. The basic principle is: Mind Moves Matter.

Everything is possible

The atom, the building block of matter, is 99.99999999% space filled with life energy. Concrete reality only exists due to our own convictions. Quantum mechanics says: we live in a sea of energy with unlimited possibilities.

Everything is energy

All the ancient cultures had a name for life energy: Ch'i, prana, mana, ki etc. Science talks about zero point energy. This energy is present everywhere. Life energy is fed by attention and directed by intention. That is why anyone can improve the health and vitality of organizations and nature.

1ST YEAR – BASICS

Introductory Course Energetic Guardianship

You learn the basics of energetic guardianship. This starts with becoming aware of your place in the bigger whole. You then go on to learn to interpret and enhance life energy in your immediate environment.

2ND YEAR – ADVANCED I

Balancing your own house, garden, organization

You get to know the energetic interrelationships better. With that knowledge you put together your own Energetic Toolkit which you apply to your own project.

3RD YEAR – ADVANCED II

Balancing other people's projects

You learn to coach someone using the principles of Resonant Leadership and you balance their project; an organization or ecosystem. You balance two projects - one project on your own and the other with a fellow student.

4TH YEAR – PRACTITIONER

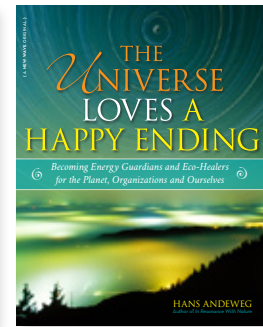

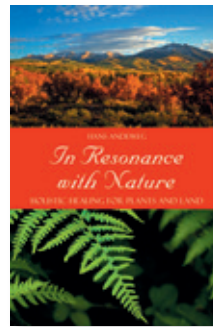

Balancing complex organizations

You learn to improve your coaching and also to balance events, e.g. a festival or a symposium. You organize and give training days during which you check and pass on what you have learned.

TRAINING DAYS

Every year there are training days for improving your energetic competencies in small groups. During the vocational training program you take one extra training day per year.

Hans Andeweg's books provide the foundation for the training.

Organization

At Center for ECOintention you can follow different courses about perceiving, interpreting and enhancing the energy in organizations and ecosystems. Together they form the ECOintention Practitioner vocational training. Personal development is key to all the courses.

Teaching staff

Hans Andeweg (MSc) is responsible for the courses and Rijk Bols for mentoring projects. They have been energizing organizations and ecosystems for more than 25 years. They are the founders and core team of the Center for ECOintention. There is a team of ECOintention Practitioners who help them to deliver the courses and mentor the trainees.
